Poplar Long Bench

$750

If you like simplicity of form, this bench is for you. Simple round legs, and the simplest apron and spandrels visually connecting the top with the legs make it an easy design to live with. But that's not the best thing from my point of view. This bench is 6' long but much much lighter since is is made of poplar. If it were elm, toting that bench around would be good hernia bait. This bench has the usual age related repairs, and upon inquiry, I can detail them all to you. Early 20th century.

Wood: Poplar
